

jennifer martin

🌸 latest release: It Is Well

Dictionary.com Unabridged (v 1.1)

des·per·ate pronunciation [des-per-it, -prit]

—adjective: having an urgent need, desire...

I never intended to be a worship leader. I guess you could say I stumbled into it on a short-term mission trip overseas when the scheduled worship leader missed his flight and I was all they had. In that moment, desperation converged into destiny as I strummed a borrowed guitar in a foreign land.

I'll never forget that night. We were so hungry for God's presence, and as we sang, we experienced a taste of "every tribe and every tongue" gathered around God's throne. Though this mission trip would conclude a few days later, the desperation for God's presence and worship leading continues.

Still borrowing guitars and longing for His Presence, I invited a handful of wonderful and equally desperate friends to join me in the studio. We rolled some tape, asked God to meet us in our worship, and the result of this special time is my latest project, "It is Well."

Track List:

- Our Only Hope
- Christ Our Victory
- O Come Be Born Again
- How Beautiful is the Lord
- It is Well
- Lord Bless Jerusalem
- Let Your Kingdom come
- Lullaby for God's People (instrumental)
- Let the Morning Bring Word

For more information on Jennifer Martin contact

PO Box 121434 • Nashville, TN 37212 USA • jennifer@jennifermartin.com